

Exam-Style Questions

1. What were the variables in this experiment?

The dependent variable (the thing we measured) was _____.

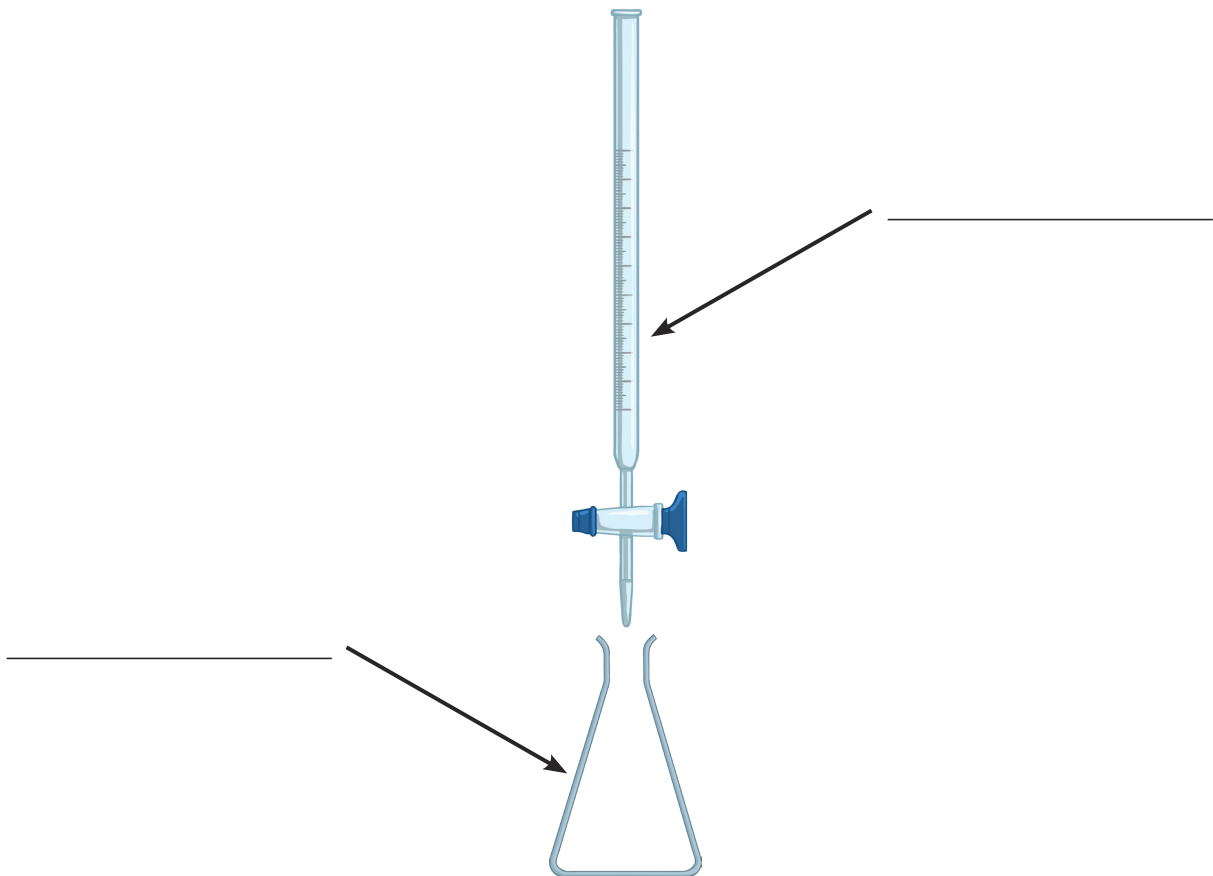

The control variables (the things we kept the same) were _____

2. Name two everyday examples of neutralisation reactions. Hint: What do farmers spread on their fields to neutralise the soil? What do you do if you're suffering from indigestion?

1. _____

2. _____

3. Label the diagram below. Hint: What equipment have you used today?

Exam-Style Questions

1. What were the variables in this experiment?

The dependent variable was the volume of sulfuric acid.

The control variables (the things we kept the same) were the same volume of sodium hydroxide, same concentration of sulfuric acid and the same concentration of sodium hydroxide solution.

2. Name two everyday examples of neutralisation reactions. Hint: What do farmers spread on their fields to neutralise the soil? What do you do if you're suffering from indigestion?

Some examples are:

1. farmers spreading lime on fields
2. toothpaste
3. antacids

Accept any other correct answers.

3. Label the diagram below. Hint: What equipment have you used today?

